

Love, Sex and the I.R.S.

A farce, by Billy Van Zandt and Jane Milmore
Here is a wild farce with twists of fate, sight gags, mistaken identities and hilarious comic lines. Jon and Leslie are out of work musicians who room together in New York City. To save money, Jon has been filing tax returns listing the two men as a married couple. The day of reckoning comes when the I.R.S. informs the "couple" they're going to be investigated. Leslie masquerades as a housewife, aided by Jon's fiancé, Kate. Complicating matters further, Leslie and Kate are having an affair behind Jon's back, Jon's mother drops in unexpectedly to meet her son's fiancé, and Leslie's ex-girlfriend shows up demanding to know why Leslie has "changed" and won't see her anymore. Hilarious!

Return Engagements A comedy, by Bernard Slade

This ingenious comedy is by the author of Same Time, Next Year, Tribute and Romantic Comedy. The first act is comprised of three scenes showing separate couples: a tipsy actress and the bellboy who has bedded her the night before, a gutsy Polish woman who has survived World War II and a carpenter whom she chooses to father her baby, and an acid tongued columnist and his cool psychotherapist wife who are about to split up. In Act II, we meet the couples 20, 25 and 30 years later, as we learn much to our amusement how they ended up. And, we learn how, ultimately, their stories are all linked together. A show you can't miss!

Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat

The musical, by Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber
The Biblical saga of Joseph and his coat of many colors comes to vibrant life in this delightful musical parable. Joseph, his father's favorite son, is a boy blessed with prophetic dreams. Set to an engaging cornucopia of musical styles, from country-western and calypso to bubble-gum pop and rock 'n' roll, this Old Testament tale emerges both timely and timeless.

Squabbles A comedy, by Marshall Karp

This hilarious play pits a father-in-law against a mother in a comedic succession of squabbles. Jerry Sloan is a successful writer of advertising jingles married to an equally successful lawyer. Living with the happy couple is the not-so-happy Abe, Jerry's curmudgeon of a father-in-law. Abe is a funny guy to the audience, not to Jerry. The situation is exacerbated when Jerry's mother Mildred loses her house in a fire and needs a place to stay. Abe and Mildred can't stand each other. This play is one hilarious confrontation after another! Don't miss the funny conclusion!

Fame

Non-musical—A Ridgedale Teen Production
You want Fame? Well, Fame costs. At the School of Performing Arts in New York City, the play begins. The applicants have nothing in common, but a compelling dream— and the need to solve their problems in their various lives. Meet Doris, Ralph, Coco and Montgomery, who portray the essence of young people and theater. While this show is not a musical, there is some dancing and music.
